Dear Senator Brubaker,

I am hopeful that raw milk continues to be available in Pennsylvania. Since moving here six years<sup>ago</sup> and discovering raw milk my health has steadily improved - so much so that having to move to one of the more backward states where raw milk is not available is unthinkable.

My son lives in California and when his daughter wasn't walking at 13 months began giving her raw milk at the pediatrician's insistence & she is now running and skipping.

My New Jersey friends are jealous of the fact I can buy it here so easily. Hopefully it will make it possible for small farms to survive - maybe even prosper - in Pennsylvania

Sincerely

Claine Shon
