To Whom It May Concern:

Thank you for the state subsidies in years past. On our farm we've certainly appreciated the assistance that the state has so graciously given us. I urge the state to continue the current level of subsidy as they've allowed for 2007.

Crop Insurance is a valuable risk management tool that we've relied on for several years and believe that farming without would be a very risky business. As you know the state's farmers equals the state's food supply.

Please help us to continue to provide affordable food for the state of Pennsylvania, by keeping Crop Insurance affordable to us!

Sincerely,

Chad Hurst
